GERMAN SHIPS ALLOWED FRANCE MADE KNOWN

Ten Per Cent Granted of All Captured Tonnage, Excepting Submarines.

PARIS, April 6 (French Wireless Service).—Particulars of the distribution of enemy warships among the allies have just been published here. France's share is 10 per cent of the total tonnage of all the captured enemy ships, with the exception of submarines, representing $2,000,000, half of which is in German ships and the remainder in Austrian vessels.

Fifty cruisers and ten destroyers are allotted to France, and the same number of cruisers and destroyers to Italy. Each of these two powers will also receive a light cruiser and three destroyers, which may be used for regular operations. The powers, but must be destroyed when that time has elapsed. France will receive the cruiser, Canot. Forty submarines now in French ports are also allotted to France, and of these ten may be put into service. France is the only power to which the privilege of using captured submarines has been granted.

Paul Bignon, undersecretary of state for the mercantile marine, emphasizes the relations between Great Britain and France. He has just printed in several newspapers with reference to the negotiations in London concerning the final distribution of German tonnage among the allies. He declares that Great Britain, in abandoning her claim to the 20,000 tons of ships which France urgently requested, showed great consideration, and that France should be grateful to England in view of the fact that Great Britain's interests were severely affected by the various arrangements which the total amount of tonnage available for distribution.

BODY OF JEANNE A. DEKAY FOUND IN LAKE MICHIGAN

Protege of Miss Jane Addams, Chicago, Had Been Missing Since December 30.

CHICAGO, April 6.—The body of Jeanne Anna Dekay, twenty-nine-year-old protegee of Miss Jane Addams, whose disappearance from Hull House on December 30 was followed by a national search, was found yesterday in Lake Michigan, near the municipal pier.

Mrs. Gertrude Howe Britton of Hull House identified the body. Except for a coat and hat, which were missing, the clothing on the body was the same as Miss Dekay wore when she disappeared. A scar on the left temple and smallpox marks under the eyes assisted in the identification.

Mrs. Britton said she was convinced the girl had committed suicide. No evidence of violence was found on the body. Coroner Hoffman said the body had been in the water three months.

Miss Dekay was the daughter of John Wesley Dekay, wealthy banker, now residing in Switzerland. She was sent to Chicago by her father soon after her graduation from a London boarding school. She arrived at Hull House last December to assist in work among the poor under Miss Jane Addams' direction.

"She was despondent while at Hull House," Mrs. Britton said, "and grieved over the poor marks on her face."

Reddy Fox Becomes Very Friendly.

Don't trust a Fox what'er you do: His friendship you are bound to rue.

Every morning for a week shortly after sun-up, Reddy Fox called on Johnny Chuck. He always appeared openly. He took the greatest care never to appear to be trying to steal without being seen. He would come trotting across the Green Meadows right in plain sight of Johnny sitting on his doorstep. He would stop a short distance away and sit down. Always he grinned, with what was intended to be a very friendly grin. With all his smartness Reddy never once thought that that grin of his showed all his long teeth and that those teeth were anything but friendly looking. Then he would tell Johnny all the news of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows. He would inquire after the health of Polly Chuck. Sometimes he would tell Johnny of places where the sweet clover was coming up very thick. Always he was as friendly as he knew how to be.

Once, as he sat talking to Johnny Chuck, he saw Redtail the Hawk headed that way. He said nothing until he saw Redtail make ready to swoop down on Johnny Chuck. Then he barked a sharp warning and chuckled to himself as he saw Johnny's black heels disappear through his doorway. He didn't mind in the least the anger of Redtail. In fact, he rather tickled him. You see, if Redtail had caught Johnny, why, of course, he would have cheated Reddy out of that dinner he hoped to get some day. Also, Reddy hoped that Johnny Chuck would be grateful and so would come to fully trust him.

Johnny Chuck appeared to think that Reddy was his friend, but all the time the wits in that funny little head of his were very active. Johnny and Polly talked the matter over. "I wonder," said Johnny, "why Reddy Fox has suddenly become so friendly. He made us trouble enough when we lived up in the Old Orchard, goodness knows, but now he is just as friendly as he can be. I never saw any one more polite. He always asks after your health, and whenever he finds a new patch of clover he tells us where it is and how I can get there. But I don't trust him, Polly. No, I don't trust him."

"I should hope not," retorted Polly. "He is friendly because he knows he can't catch either of us as things are now, and he can't dig us out. But I tell you what it is, Johnny, if he should once get between you and the doorway of our home you would soon see that all this friendliness is put on."

"I know it," said Johnny. "He isn't fooling me a bit. He is trying to get me to trust him, and when I, Johnny Chuck, get to the point of trusting a fox, I will deserve to be served up for a fox dinner. Just the same I wish I knew just what is going on in that head of his. He has a plan of some sort, and you and I, Polly, have got to be twice as watchful as if he were not friendly at all. I've been studying and studying what he can possibly do to catch me, but as long as I sit on my doorstep I don't see how he possibly can catch me."

Polly looked thoughtful, and she came over and whispered in Johnny's ear as if she were afraid that down there, inside their own home, it wasn't safe to speak aloud. Johnny's eyes snapped. "That's it, Polly," he said. "That's it. One of these fine mornings he will hide close to my doorway before I come up in the morning so as to spring on me and catch me the moment I come out. We'll fool him, Polly. We certainly will fool him. We'll have a good laugh at Reddy Fox."

Douglass is the first negro suggested to have his name immortal by being inscribed in the colonnade at the university. The name of Barbara Frietchie was urged by many women's patriotic organizations.

SEVEN MEN, CONVICTED OF MURDER, SENTENCED

MONTESSANO, Wash., April 6.—The seven men convicted here March 13 of second degree murder for the slaying of Warren C. Grimm, Centralia Armistice day parade victim, were sentenced to not less than twenty-five years nor more than forty years each in the state penitentiary by Judge John E. Wilson after he had denied a defense motion for a new trial.

Judge Wilson said he could not pay attention to the jury's plea for leniency for Eugene Barnett and John Lamb, in the light of the evidence which was submitted. He said he regarded the cases against all the men as identical.

Loren Roberts, whom the jury found insane, was ordered sent to the criminal insane ward at the state penitentiary.

The seven sentenced to twenty-five to forty years' imprisonment today were: C. C. Bland, Bert Bland, John Lamb, Eugene Barnett, James McInerney, Ray Becker and Britt Smith. The defense attorney took exception to the sentence and gave notice of appeal.

RAID N. Y. RESTAURANT ARRAIGNED BY PASTOR

Police Find Whisky and Arrest Four Following Charges Against Resort in Sermon.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Police last night raided a restaurant on the upper West Side, arrested the proprietor and three employees and announced they had seized a large quantity of liquor. The restaurant was one of five places named by Rev. John Roach Straton of Calvary Baptist Church, in a sermon Sunday, as a "vice resort" where "liquor was served freely and the shimmmy shake was danced openly."

Five hundred patrons of the restaurant were thrown into a panic by the raid, and many rushed to waiting taxicabs and hurried away without their hats or coats.

The raid was made over the head of Police Inspector Dominick Henry of the "tenderloin" district, who is under investigation by a "vice" grand jury on charges preferred by Assistant District Attorney James E. Smith. Inspector Thomas McDonald, in charge of the police "vice squad," and the four detectives who made the arrests reported they entered the restaurant and ordered whisky, which, they said, was served at $1.50 a drink. While the inspector and detectives were drinking, a cordon of police was thrown about the building and a patrol wagon backed up to the entrance. Through the police cordon the patrons, the majority of whom were in formal dress, were allowed to escape in the crowd that had gathered in the street.

NEW YORK LANDLORDS LOSE.

NEW YORK, April 6.—New York landlords lost the first round yesterday in the battle being waged between tenants and rent collectors, when the new anti-rent profiteering laws were given the first court tests. More than 3,000 men and women crowded municipal courts in the Bronx and Brooklyn to appeal in 600 evictions and rent-increase cases.

In every instance tenants were granted from one to three month stay-overs when they proved their inability to find new homes. In majority of cases landlords had served notices effective April 1 and May 1.

In Brooklyn Municipal Justice Ferguson collected more than $1,000 in rentals from tenants after landlords had refused to accept amounts thought fair by the court.

CHINESE STUDENTS DEFY GOVERNMENT AT PEKING

PEKING, March 2 (by the Associated Press).—Several hundred Chinese, representing, it is said, more than twenty educational and commercial organizations in the capital, defied the government ban on mass meetings last Sunday. They assembled in the grounds of the Temple of Agriculture and listened to a number of resolutions dealing with Sino-Japanese relations before being dispersed by the police. The call was circulated secretly after plans for a similar gathering at an earlier date had been frustrated by the vigilance of the government's agents.

When the police arrived on the scene and demanded to know what was going on students in the crowd unfurled flags carrying the inscription "Citizens Mass Meeting."

Reinforcements were summoned and the meeting was dissolved.

Thirty-nine Motor Cars in one City block. Traffic delays on every MAIN street and high road are largely due to the wide difference in performance ability among the cars that crowd it

Who Makes the Best Time

AMERICA owned 6,300,000 passenger cars at the end of 1919. A quarter of a million in and around New York. Over a hundred thousand in Chicago. Philadelphia, Boston, St. Louis, San Francisco—every city has a like congestion.

With everybody depending on his car for business purposes, the faculty of ordinary cars for getting in one another's way becomes a serious matter—and the striking ability of the Packard to run around and through traffic is doubly worth thinking about.

THE Packard Company speaks with high authority when it says that performance of the Packard kind cannot be "assembled" into a car and cannot be "tuned" into it.

It is fundamental with the design and construction of the car.

The Packard Twin-six engine, with its steady flow of flexible power. Throttled down to two miles an hour on high in the jam, and picking up to thirty miles or more in half a block.

The Packard brakes—designed by Packard, with large, long-wearing braking surfaces; equalized, with even, positive braking action on each wheel; easily applied, sure to hold.

The Packard dry disc clutch, positive and velvety in action—and the Packard forged, heat-treated gears, with their exceptional strength and long life.

The Packard steering gear and other parts controlling the car, quick and positive in action, easy to handle, tough and reliable.

YOU often hear people say that they "get there so much quicker" in a Packard.

The Packard driver watches the road rather than the operation of his car.

He has less gear-shifting to do, less strain on his attention—and he can use the flexible power of his Packard to advantage every yard of the way.
